

Where Did I Put That Old Paper?

That's what a lot of my readers ask themselves when they realize there was a useful bit of information in my article a few weeks back. Some of my readers have told me they clip every single article and occasionally go back and read some of them. Others have e-mailed me asking for a specific article. Now, through the power of the internet, you should never have to do either again.

I'm very pleased to announce that I will be posting all of my old articles on the internet. Now you don't have to worry about missing an issue of the paper or losing a copy of an old one. Just go to my website at www.csdimmitt.com and click on Previous Articles. Most of my old articles will be there in Acrobat format. Here's the catch though, I won't post an article on there for at least 4 weeks after it appears in the paper. That way if you want it right away you'll still have to read it the old fashioned way - in the newspaper.

The articles are listed in chronological order. I think I have the right dates on them, however I could be off a bit. If you see a mistake on the date please let me know the correct date the article ran and I'll change it right away. I hope each and every one of you continues reading my articles and remember to support our great newspaper and other local businesses.
